The committee will appear before the county court at 9:30 o'clock next Monday morning.

The improvement of the road from the eastern end of the county to the end of the four-mile district west of the city has already been agreed upon by the commissioners of the Columbia and Harg special road district, and a hearing before the State Highway Commission on the question of the repair of the road from the end of the Columbia district to Rockport has been asked. ### UNIT BILL NOT CONSIDERED

Legislature Refuses Introduction of New Hyde Measure.

The State Legislature yesterday refused to consider a new county unit bill when the House voted 55 to 43 against its introduction. The referendum suspended the bill passed at the regular session, and Governor Hyde requested in his message that a new one be enacted in the special session.

When the question of introducing a new measure came up Representative Elmer presented a new county unit bill as a substitute for the one held up. Whisker of Hickory County led the fight against receiving the bill. Those objecting to the consideration of a new county unit bill at this time say they believe it unwise to submit it at a special session called primarily for good road legislation. Whisker's main plea was that the bill might cause factions which would hinder the passage of road measures of greater importance.

T. F. Armstrong and Walter M. Martin were awarded $50 damages in their suit against J. M. Batterson and his son-in-law, Thomas R. Douglass, in circuit court today.

Armstrong and Martin were asking $200 damages. They claimed that hogs belonging to Batterson and Douglass broke into their cornfield, near McBaine, and destroyed part of the crop. The corn, they said, was worth 60 cents a bushel in the field and the $200 represented only about one sixth of the field's value.

ENGLISH REGATTA OPENS

Finals in International Races to Be Held Saturday.

HENLEY-ON-THAMES, June 29.—Henley Regatta, England's greatest aquatic meeting and society river-picnic, opened today with pre-war brilliance. The river was gay with aristocratic houseboats, launches, punts and other river-craft, the women-folk donning the latest creations of Bond street and Paris modistes. All the riverside mansions contributed their quota of spectators, there being numerous al fresco picnics on the lawns.

From the sporting point of view, the racing suffered from the absence of American, French and Belgian competitors, but the international character of the event was well maintained by entries from Holland and Norway. The Dutch Maas Rowing Club had an eight entered for the grand challenge cup while the Christiania Rowing Club had an eight in the Thames challenge cup and a four in the Wyfold challenge cup, while a Dutchman, F. E. Eken of the Delft University Club, was among the entries for the diamond sculls, which carry virtually the championship of England, if not indeed, the world. Eken made an unsuccessful attack on the diamond sculls last year.

Racing continues for four days, the semi-finals being slated for Friday and the finals for Saturday. All the best amateur oarsmen in England are competing.

LOVE-AGENT POOR CHOOSER

Matrimonial "Arranger" and Wife Air Troubles in Court.

LOS ANGELES, June 29.—Martha A. Padley doesn't understand the principles of advertising, nor how unpleasant misdirected publicity can be.

Benjamin W. Padley, Martha's husband, thinks so at least. Benjamin runs a matrimonial agency.

"Martha is suing him for divorce. Not only that, but she is telling the world that Benjamin doesn't know about matrimony."

It's all being threshed out in Judge J. Perry Wood's divorce court, a setting not new to either Benjamin or Martha. They were divorced once before. That was immediately after the police had locked up Benjamin's love brokerage office on complaint of neighboring tenants, and incarcerated its proprietor and several of his too-affectionate clients for a time.

The Padleys, however, remarried, and once more the marriages-to-order shingle was hung out on Benjamin's door. All would have been well, probably, if Mrs. Padley had not overheard her spouse make an untimely, not to say tactless, remark to the effect that while he could pick 'em for other people all right, he'd certainly make a poor choice in the matrimonial grab bag himself.

SOCIALISTS ARE CHALLENGED

War Veterans Allege U. S. Flag Is Ignored by Convention.

"There is only one flag—and that is the red flag."

The veterans demanded that the man who made the assertion come out and fight.

Cameron King, Socialist editor, said that no action had been taken regarding the intrusion.

Although the entrance of the veterans was unexpected there was no disturbance created.

A TREAT FOR ALL BIRD LOVERS TODAY

Editor the Missourian: I was glad to get Mr. Heibel's addition to my list of birds. I think, however, he will find that three of the birds were already listed by me. The raincrow is the (yellow-billed) cuckoo; the bee-bird is the martin; and we have three kinds of redbirds, given on my list as the cardinal, the summer tanager, and the scarlet tanager. The kingfisher and the crane should have been on my list, but I overlooked them. The ricebird and shrike are new to me, and I am glad to learn about them.

Other birds which should have been on my list are the bank swallow, the mudhen, the aspucker, and the woodthrush. The last sings on the University campus every evening at twilight.

Has anybody seen a barn swallow around Columbia lately? A few years ago there were numbers of these beautiful birds at a place on the Rockport road.

I wonder if any of your readers "have heard the mavis singing?" It is one of our most beautiful singers, as well as one of our most numerous birds.

MEYERS' BILL DISAPPROVED

Road Legislation Supported by J. A. Hudson Reported Adversely.

The House Roads Committee of the Legislature voted Monday to report adversely the bill by Representative Edward Meyer of St. Clair County which was regarded as the measure backed by the opponents of the $60,000,000 road bond proposal, according to the St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

This measure was sponsored by J. A. Hudson and William Hirth, according to the Globe-Democrat. Mr. Hirth issued a statement addressed to the Missouri Legislature, urging that nothing be done with the $60,000,000 road bond proposal until an initiative amendment to the constitution can be voted upon in 1922, diverting a portion of the automobile license fees to the improvement of market roads for the farmers.

Mr. Hirth argued that the state road system proposed would benefit less than 20 per cent of the farmers and that the principal benefit of the state system would be to tourists.

Mr. Hirth's proposal is that the Legislature, which was called to enact road legislation under the $60,000,000 bond proposal, adjourn without doing anything.

In a public speech delivered before members of the Legislature at the regular session, Mr. Hirth decided the notion that 6,00
